

New Website Up & Running

The NRD's new irrigation certification website was launched in May and is available for landowners to use.

The website was developed to allow users access to records of their own land. Landowners can now find information on the number of irrigated acres that the NRD has on record, pull up and print aerial photos of their land and track any changes that they may have made.

The website is the first in Nebraska and is available for only those areas of land already certified within the Central Platte NRD; which stretches along the Platte River from Gothenburg to Columbus.

The irrigation website address is:

www.irr-acres.cpnrd.org/Cert/

You can also access the website by following the "Check Your Irrigated Acres" link on the NRD's website: www.cpnrd.org.

For more information on the website, email Matt Bohnenkamp at: matt@cpnrd.org

See certification update on back of this page

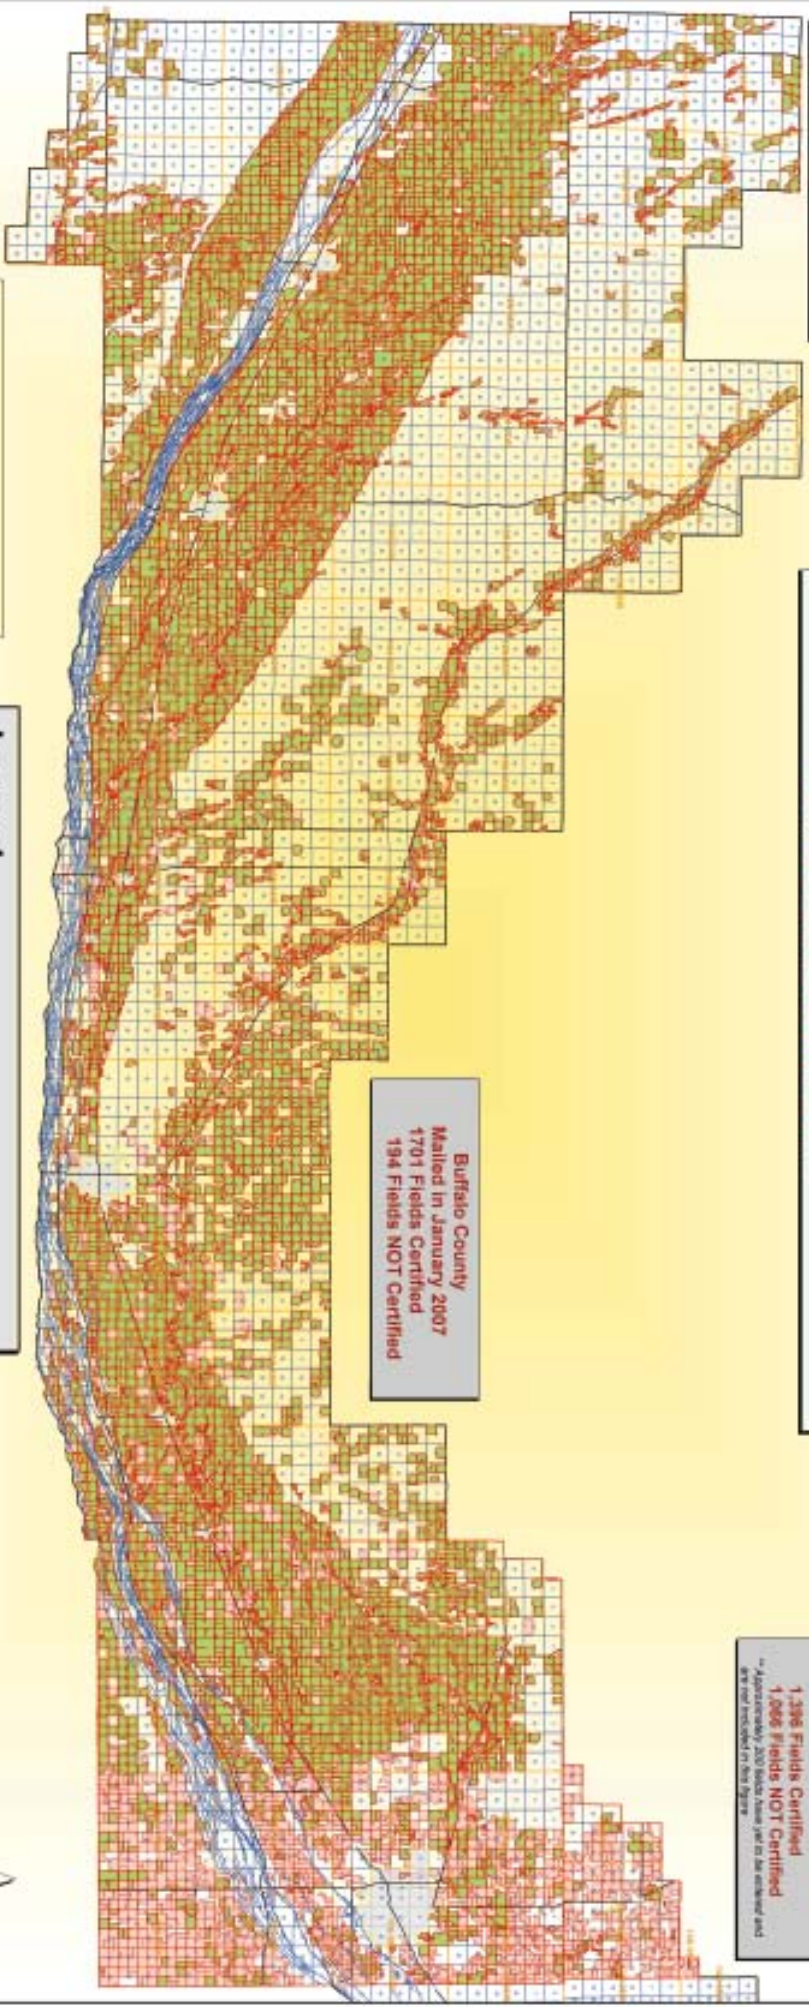

Irrigated Acres Certified By May 28, 2007

Dawson, Custer, Frontier Counties
Mailed in 2006
3,266 Fields Certified
78 Fields NOT Certified

Latest Mailing: Eastern Hall County and Howard May 7th 2007
7,657 Fields Mailed Total
615,078 Acres Certified Total

Hall and Howard Counties
1,396 Fields Certified
1,066 Fields NOT Certified
*Approximately 200 fields have yet to be certified and are not included in this figure

Buffalo County
Mailed in January 2007
1701 Fields Certified
194 Fields NOT Certified

Central Platte
Nebraska Irrigation District
201 North Buckhorn Avenue
Lincoln, NE 68503
(402) 441-7000
By David Schumacher

Legend

Platte River

Fields

- Certified
- Mailed-out

